Full Stack Engineer Internship

Acrometis, LLC

King of Prussia, PA

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Widchard Faustin, and I am writing this letter to apply for the Full Stack Engineer Internship position that Acrometis is offering. I am a motivated rising senior in the Drexel University's accelerated degree program for Computer Science, and I am known for wanting to get my hands dirty when it comes to learning new skills and going above and beyond for getting work done.

On top of pursuing both a bachelor's and master's degree, I have also worked for Drexel's College of Computing and Informatics as a Senior Dean's Ambassador. This position has helped me develop my communication and organization skills, as I have managed multiple open houses, college visits, tours, and student workshops for prospective students and parents. Additionally, I have gained leadership skills by managing a small group of Dean's Ambassadors, giving mentorship and participating in team bonding activities with them. When it comes to my academics and work experience, I have also amassed a sizable list of technical skills, such as:

- Coding in languages like C++, Java, C#, and Python proficiently
- Developing and testing front-end and back-end software
- Learning about and applying various algorithms to solve problems

After doing some research about the position and the company behind it, I realized that not only is this a place I would want to work at, but I would also be able to contribute value to your company in this position. I am incredibly hard-working and someone who doesn't like giving up in the face of adversity, and I feel that this attitude coupled with some of the technical experience that I have would be an excellent fit for your company and this position.

I want to thank you for your time and consideration, and I would appreciate an opportunity to discuss further. I have attached my resume, but please feel free to reach out if you have any further questions that these documents did not address.

Sincerely,

Widchard Faustin
